USEFULL INFO

Language:

Montenegrin (Crnogorski jezik, Црногорски језик) is an incipient standardized register of the Serbo-Croatian language as spoken by Montenegrins used as the official language of Montenegro. The same subdialect of Shtokavian is also the basis of standard Bosnian, Croatian and Serbian, so all are mutually intelligible and are a single language by that criterion despite being distinct national standards.

| Montenegrin | English        |
|-------------|----------------|
| Dobro jutro | Good Morning   |
| Dobar dan   | Good Afternoon |
| Da/Ne       | Yes/No         |

| Izvini      | Sorry          |

Electric:

220 V, 50 Hz
2 pin plugs used

Money

The domestic currency is the Euro.

You can exchange foreign currency in exchange offices and banks. Be aware that it might be difficult to exchange coins here, so bring the paper bills. There is no significant difference in the exchange rates, except at the airport, hotels and sometimes restaurants.

Many of the banks in Montenegro have ATMs. Visa, Master card and other cards can be used, but always ask in advance if you plan to pay something with it.

Customs

You are allowed to bring the following into Montenegro without facing taxes: 200 cigarettes, 50 cigars or 250 grams of tobacco; 1 liter of wine and 1 liter of spirits; 1/4 liter of Eau de Cologne and a 'reasonable' quantity of perfume; 2 photo cameras; 1 movie camera; 1 pair of binoculars; 1 pocket electronic calculator; camping equipment and 1 bicycle.

Foreigners are allowed to bring their medications, but are advised to declare the quantity on the entry to Serbia, so they won't have any problems leaving the country with it.

More information you can find at: http://www.globalmontenegro.com/info\_for\_foreigners.html

The venue

Sutomore

Sutomore (Serbian Cyrillic: Сутормо; Venetian: Spizza) is a small coastal town in Bar Municipality, Montenegro.

Sutomore is tourism oriented community. It is a popular budget destination and a weekend resort, catering to tourists from Montenegro and the surrounding region. It is popular for its 2 km long sandy beach and vibrant nightlife.

Sutomore is located on the Adriatic Highway (E65/E80), and is connected to Podgorica and inland Montenegro via Sozina tunnel. It is also a stop on the Belgrade - Bar railway. The ease of access, coupled with its beach, has made Sutomore very popular budget destination. Sutomore is especially popular with the younger crowd from Serbia and rest of Montenegro, as its beach promenade is lined with numerous bars, cafes, restaurants and nightclubs, while it is more affordable than the 'upscale' resort of Budva..
